GOVERNOR IN KOOLAU

Industrial School Pleases Him—Condition of Roads.

Governor Carter was at his office yesterday afternoon, after returning from his outing on the Koolau side of this island. To an Advertiser reporter he spoke of his jaunt along with several matters of public policy under his consideration.

"In going around the island I paid particular attention to the road. There is some talk of relocating the road from Heela to Kalahe, which takes over the hills through Macfarlane's ranch, Ahuimanu. The change would save a mile and give us a better road.

"Out of Kaahumanu the road is pretty bad. There are places where the sea meets the land wash. The question is whether to build a road back inland or keep on building embankments.

"The Boys' Industrial School, just the other side of Kahuku, pleased me greatly. Mr. Gibson has done splendidly. There are one hundred boys. In addition to the three buildings erected by the Government, the boys have built a blacksmith shop, a carpenter shop, a two-story barn and a windmill over the spring. They have wired the buildings for electric light, terraced the ground and planted taro patches. They do their own cooking and washing, besides milking the cows.

"It is really fine. There are a hundred boys, who have a chance to be put straight again by a regular life and habits.

"The road into Ewa district is getting into fine shape. They have as much money as any other district and ought to have the best roads.

"One thing I find still going on is a lack of appreciation on the part of some of the road boards of the fact that the last Legislature passed that citizen labor law. Only last month pay rolls have had to be sent back because it was evident that the law had not been observed. It seems necessary that an example should be made of some of them. There is a penalty of $10 for every man employed contrary to the law."

"The Governor spoke of the liquor question on Kauai. Some of the dealers, he intimated, might forfeit their licenses if responsibility was found attaching to them for the illicit traffic on that island. Licensees were expected to aid the police in suppressing the lawless traffic.

With regard to the Lahaina water controversy the Governor thinks the question so complicated that compromise is preferable to litigation that would probably be mending.

Alameda Due Today.

The "yacht" Alameda will, if all predictions do not fail, stick her nose around Diamond Head at 6:02:57.333 o'clock this morning. This information is given that those who are accustomed to set their clocks by her whistle may know just how to regulate their timepieces. She will bring a very light mail this time because of the Siberia. The passenger list is also light. However those little things do not lessen interest in her arrival.

Howard Resumes Duties.

After being absent for thirty days Captain H. Z. Howard, superintendent of the Oceanic Steamship Company, resumed his duties last week. Captain Howard, during his vacation, made a visit to his old home in Connecticut, which he had not seen for over twenty years. He also visited the large Eastern cities.
